

"Grant is willing to be 'pressed' again into his country's service," says an exchange. He never saw the time when he wasn't, if there was money in it.

The vote of the whole country at the recent election is as follows: Garfield, 4,489,415; Hancock, 4,436,014; Weaver, 405,729; Dow, 9,643; Scattergood, 1,793; Total, 9,192,595. Garfield's plurality, 5,401.

In an interview with a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter last Wednesday, Gen. Hancock said that a force of from 1,500 to 2,000 hands were at work on the Elizabeth road, Lexington and Big Sandy road, and that in three months, weather permitting, the road would be completed.

Gen. Grant spoke before the Lotos Club, in New York, as follows: "I believe that I am in quite vigorous health, forty-eight years of age, and have been for the last ten years." To which he might have added, for over four of which he has been a standing candidate for re-election to the Presidency.

J. H. St. Andrew, editor of the Farmville Mercury, a gentleman of culture and great natural talent, sailed on Saturday last for England, where he was born. He will return in January. Sorry to lose him, even for so brief a time, but believing his mission has something to do with the important question of English immigration to Virginia, we can consent to his absence only upon that ground. May he have a safe return.

Col. Fulkerson is elected to Congress in the Ninth district by the lean majority of 93, the vote standing as follows: Fulkerson, 7,343; Trigg, 7,250.—Lyndhurst Advance.

Only 93. Abram the "youth" was close after you, and next time you will "go up." Look out. Only 93. Too close "uncle Abe" to be comfortable. Truly the Bistol News is very thankful for small favors. Didn't the News claim about 5000 majority before the election? Abram and Isaac seem to have lost their "grip" somehow in the Southwest. Only 93.

Hon. J. Floyd King, Congressman for the fifth Louisiana district, writes to the President that the outrage report of H. B. Lanier, internal revenue collector in that district, is unfounded; that Lanier is short in his accounts as State tax collector; that he has been engaged in desperate private broils, in which his antagonists were killed, and that such a man should not be armed with authority, as Commissioner Raum proposes, to use troops or armed men in the midst of profound peace against people observing the laws.

Here is another chance for "visiting Statesmen." Hunt up Eliza Pinckton and start the "outrage mill" afresh. More rides Mr. Raum; put down the rebellion. Radicalism is putting on fresh life, truly.

We have refrained from writing anything upon the debt question for some time, and would not say anything now were it not that inquiry is made as to what will be done with it. Our belief is that the Democrats of the State will hold a State convention early in 1881, perhaps as early as January or February, and will then lay down a basis of settlement, satisfactory to all concerned. It must be settled by the Democrats or else it will be settled by the Republicans. Mahone and his party will have nothing to do with the settlement, except as Democrats. He isn't "ruling the roost" just now, upon the debt or any other question in Virginia. The debt will be settled speedily we think, and the troublesome question disposed of once for all by the beginning of 1882. In the meantime look out for trickery and delusion.

THE PASSION PLAY.—We are rejoiced to see that Manager Abbey of Booth's Theatre, New York has concluded not to produce what is known as the "Passion Play." Had he persisted in his determination there would doubtless have been an emote in New York which would have shaken the neck of land upon which that modern Sodom is oiled from centre to circumference. This is as it should be. No decent American, who has a regard for the character of the Saviour, (and what American has not?) would for a moment tolerate such horrible impiety? Not any, we affirm. Protests innumerable came up from citizens of the metropolis and the effect has been to compel Mr. Abbey to discontinue his arrangements for the immoral exhibition. The New York Sun was foremost in this effort, seconded ably by the World, and whilst others may have entered their protest, yet we have only seen these. There is no union, in this free country, between church and State, but when the time arrives that the Son of God can be travestied in an American theatre then will be the time when the sun will set, and properly, upon American liberty, for her people will be so besotted as not to serve the liberty they enjoy.

The Incoming Administration.

Gen. Garfield would not now be the President elect, had not Grant, Conkling, Blaine, Boutwell and other "stalwarts" come to the rescue with the "bloody shirt" and the "tariff scare." By them was the election secured and by them will the administration be guided, the President's views to the contrary notwithstanding; for "they themselves have said it" when they assented that though Gen. Hancock was a good man, yet he would be controlled by his most effective supporters. There is much more reason to suppose that their proposition will apply to Gen. Garfield than to Hancock, for he, to say the least, has always been above suspicion. However broad and national the policy Gen. G. may have determined on in his own mind, yet even his most hopeful friends cannot but perceive that there is danger of his finding, the moment he takes his seat, a policy already mapped out entirely at variance with his own.

Mr. Boutwell, of Mass., has recently written an article, "The Future of the Republican Party," which gives the one to what the incoming President may expect. He represents the views of a large majority of the leading men of his party; for he only repeats what they have not only said again and again, but repeatedly practiced. He calls the stalwarts to arms. Hear him: "The Democracy are criminal and must be put down, by force, if necessary. We must have a high protective tariff for Mr. Kasson as well as Mr. Randall. We must be 'determined,' bold and aggressive towards the South, and under the circumstances there ought to be no hesitancy in using the bayonet. We must cut down the representation of the South." The henchmen will respond, and the next three months there will be hatched, in all probability, a policy for Garfield before which that of Gen. Grant must pale. We do not know that Gen. Garfield intends a pacific policy. We do not know that he is not in full accord with Mr. Boutwell; we only wish for the best. We believe, however, that he will have trouble unpeppable at the very moment of his assumption of the Presidential robe, and that alleged "Southern intolerance" has been far surpassed by confessed Northern bigotry and passion. History repeats itself despite our boasted civilization; the Albigensian Crusade and Prides Purge may be reproduced and become frequent facts in the annals of America.

The State executive Committee of the Republican party, through their chairman, Gen. Wickham, has issued an address to the Republicans of Virginia, congratulating them on their success in the recent election, denouncing the efforts of those "who conceived and engineered the traitorous design" to transfer the Republican vote to Mahone, and urging prompt and thorough organization for the election of next year. We venture to predict that an effort will be made by Mahone to have Wickham ousted and John P. Lewis put at the helm.

CHARLES HARTMAN, Toledo, Ohio, says: "I know I cured me, and I hope others similarly troubled with pain in the chest may be helped by the 'Only Lung Pad' as I have."

Brooks's letter to the Index-Examiner.

There is some talk of holding a Democratic convention here at an early day, for the purpose of agreeing on some fair basis for a settlement of the debt. A day in January or February is spoken of. But nothing definite has been or can be agreed on until a meeting of the State Committee is held. It seems to be pretty well conceded that some readjustment measure is inevitable, and the only question to be decided now, is a basis of such a scheme. The matter has been already kept up to the detriment of the people and to the great advantage of the politicians and demagogues. The people now seem to be in earnest in their demand for relief before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old-fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

OLD COMMONWEALTH.

HARRISONBURG, VA.

THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 2, 1880.

THE FARM AND HOME.

PRACTICAL HINTS.

Never water a horse directly after feeding, especially if he is fed no corn. Dry salt sprinkled on the shovels will drive away red ants.

Scotch snuff, put on holes where crickets come out will destroy them.

Old potatoes may be freshened up by plunging them into cold water before cooking them.

Never wash raisins that are to be used in sweet dishes. It will make the pudding heavy. To clean them wipe with a dry towel.

In boiling dumplings of any kind put them into the water one at a time. If they are put in together they mix each other.

Cutlets and steaks may be fried as well as broiled, but they must be put in hot butter or lard. The grease is hot enough when it throws off a blackish smoke.

There is a greenness in onions and potatoes that renders them hard to digest. For health's sake put them in warm water for an hour before cooking.

If any one desires a plant which will bloom through the winter, with no cessation, nothing will give greater satisfaction than a double pink petunia.

To allow a cow to fall off in flesh while giving milk for butter making is a serious mistake, which can be easily detected by the "expert" when the butter is placed upon the market.

A half-gill of soft soap and water, one part of soap to twelve of water, poured at the roots of cabbage plants is recommended as a sure death to white grubs.

"Salt, it is said, will prevent club root in cabbages. Throw a tablespoonful of fine salt around the root after planting—this will also destroy the cut worm.

Three years trial proves that two spoonfuls of saltpetre dissolved in a pail of water will save winter squashes from the borer. Apply once a week. Avoid if possible an exclusive diet of whole corn for poultry. It may put on fat, but it is not good for eggs. Let corn be fed as only one among other grains.

A few old rusty nails kept in the vessels out of which fowls daily drink will be found more conducive to their health than nine-tenths of the nostrum foods.

As it takes no more hoeing or weeding to raise first-class varieties of garden vegetables than it does to raise inferior or indifferent ones, every one can see the propriety of choosing the best.

Tomato vines should always have some kind of support. The fruit will grow larger, ripen sooner and more easily, and will be better flavored than if the vines are allowed to lie on the ground.

Bonolust is highly appreciated by the English as a fertilizer. They import large quantities of bones from Australia, and what ever substance contains phosphate is earnestly sought for enriching the soil.

As a rule the size of the seed will indicate the depth to plant it, starting with smallest at one-half of an inch, such as celery, parsnips, etc., while peas and beans may be put one and a half inches in depth.

The application of sulphur sprinkled upon fowls, while roosting or otherwise, with a pepper box, will destroy vermin. Coal oil applied to their roost in small quantities will also kill parasites. Two or three drops of whale oil, dropped occasionally on the back of a hen, or any other bird will kill lice.

Fertilizers for Wheat.

We observe much inquiry among scientific and practical men, both in Europe and in this country, on the value of different fertilizers for wheat, and for the one best adapted to this crop. An important omission appears to be made in these inquiries. The nature of the soil itself frequently has a controlling influence, and it is more important to ascertain its character than to make any distinction in the crops. Superphosphate, for example, has in some localities in this State doubled the wheat crop when applied at the rate of 300 pounds per acre. In other places not many miles distant, and with apparently similar soil, it has had no visible effect whatever. To say, therefore, that superphosphate is an excellent fertilizer for wheat would require to be qualified by knowledge of the nature of the soil. The same or similar varying results have occurred where it was applied to other crops than wheat, as to potatoes, corn and grass—showing that the soil, more than the crop, was to be examined. It is not probable that ordinary analysis would have given any indication of the difference in the two soils.—Country Gentleman.

Remedy for Peach-Tree Blight.

It looks as if there was some virtue in the following, which is claimed by a Western grower of peaches, and we publish it that peach-growers may give it a trial: "A few years ago I had some peach trees which, being on a wall exposed to a draught, were annually blighted. One died, and the new wood of the other was not more than a hand's length. A scientific friend advised me to try a weak solution of quassia to water them with, and the success was complete. Blight was prevented. The first year the trees bore well and the new wood was elbow length or more. I next tried quassia in the vinery. Instead of lime-washing the walls to get rid of with quassia.
